EHS 668/IOE 837

Paul D. Moss, CIH, ROH

Speaking on

Transactional vs. Transformational Leadership in EHS

Paul Moss is Vice President of Global EHS and Travel for Siemens Healthcare Diagnostics. This talk will focus on two different types of leader in the world of EHS and the advantages and disadvantages of each. The management style that the University of Michigan graduates create and take to the business world will be key to whether or not we continue to engage and get the best out of our workforce while keeping them safe. In addition, it plays a direct role in the success of Environment, Health and Safety. He will introduce effective concepts for communication and engagement of the workforce that the SPH graduate students can take to the bank for a successful future in their EHS career.

All interested persons are welcome to attend.
