53rd Annual
Warren Cook Industrial
Hygiene Discussional
October 27-28, 2016

Description

Following a long tradition at the University of Michigan, the 53rd Warren Cook Industrial Hygiene Discussion will consist of one and one-half days of discussion by prominent leaders in the field of Industrial Hygiene. Discussion sessions are directed by University of Michigan Faculty. The Discussion offers a unique opportunity to share information about issues of contemporary interest to industrial hygienists. Participants will be asked to supply questions and topics of interest which will become the basis for discussion.

Who Should Attend

Attendees are typically senior level industrial hygienists with policy making responsibilities in their organizations.

Accreditation

ABIH has previously awarded CM credit for this event. The current event contains hours which can be claimed for CM credit.
